The screenshot shows a web interface for managing a language table. At the top, there is a title 'Language Table' and a sub-header 'Edit User Language'. Below this is a form with a 'Language' dropdown menu currently set to '한국어'. The dropdown menu is open, showing options: 'English', '한국어', 'Russian', and 'Etc'. The '한국어' option is highlighted with a blue background and an orange border. To the right of the dropdown are two buttons: 'Read' and 'Write', both with green checkmarks. Below the form is a table with two rows. The first row has '1' in the 'Number' column and 'Yes' in the 'English Table' column. The second row has '2' in the 'Number' column and 'No' in the 'English Table' column. There are three yellow callout boxes: one pointing to the 'Language' dropdown with the text 'Select Language', one pointing to the 'Read' button with the text 'Click on the Read button if you have language files to an existing', and one pointing to the 'Etc' option in the dropdown with the text 'Select Etc, except English, Korean, Russian'.
